With 0 respect, they love to wave the Palestinian flag and post it on their Instagram, but has one of them actually done anything to help? Literally anything, like donate 3 dollars? What the fuck is Carleton gonna do about Palestine anyways? They like to convince themselves that what they're doing matters, but they don't give a fuck about Palestine. They just want to make themselves feel like heroes or part of some movement. They're literally just going through a rebellious phase and latched onto something. If it wasn't Palestine, it would be climate change or Russia and Ukraine. All of these issues are interchangeable because all they do is talk about it. Not one of these student groups does meaningful direct action. Like why the fuck are you walking around Carleton University protesting? Go to Parliament. Go inside the Parliament. Go to Mark Carney's office. But they're just a bunch of pussies who will never act and just want to circlejerk each other. Bro, I met at least two fake Palestinians last year. I asked them where they're from and they just said Gaza. They couldn't name the capital — not Jerusalem or Ramallah. This guy is such a pussy: "leave me alone in a public groupchat, for the whole university, alright bro, I gotchu."
